

Tan Chin Tuan Award for Social Work

Tan Chin Tuan Award for Social Work is awarded to individuals who are aspired to train as social workers with the National Council of Social Service (NCSS). By fully funding their studies, the foundation is strongly signaling to other potential donors to also support the training of more social workers. In addition, the foundation hopes that the award recipients will make a difference to the lives of many after graduating with their Bachelor of Social Work degree. Through them, the foundation's initial gift multiplies as their expertise will be channeled to help others over time.
